

STRONSBURG (AP) — Military civilian personnel at Indian Gap will pay final respects Thursday to their former chief and friend, the late Lt. Gen. A. J. Drexel Biddle.

Memorial ceremonies at the military reservation will coincide with burial services for the 64-year-old soldier-diplomat at Arlington National Cemetery in Washington.

Biddle, who died Monday, was Pennsylvania's popular state adjutant general until his appointment earlier this year as U.S. ambassador to Spain.

JFK-Adenauer Talks Readied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Walter C. Dowling and Gen. Lucius D. Clay are returning to Washington this week to help prepare for meetings between West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and President Kennedy.

Adenauer is expected to reach Washington late Sunday for two days of conferences with Kennedy.

The State Department did not say just when Dowling and Clay will arrive, but said they would participate in preliminary planning for the Adenauer-Kennedy talks, which will start Monday.

Kidnaped Girl Returns Safe

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — A frightened girl, who came home cold and hungry but unharmed Wednesday tried to help police trace the man who kidnaped and held her 12 hours in a rural cabin.

Marjorie Schubert, 8, a university biochemist's daughter, was forced to lie on the floor of the abductor's car as he whisked her away from the sidewalk near her home at dusk Tuesday night. There was light only in an inside room of the cabin to which he took her after what she thought was a 30-minute ride.

35th Discoverer Is Launched

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE Base, Calif. (AP)—The 35th Discoverer rocket shot into orbit Wednesday for another try at perfecting a way to recover packy aces from space.

Two attempts within the last month failed. Only eight capsules have been recovered in the three-year series. Six were caught in the air by planes; two were fished from the ocean.

The Thor-Agena B combination roared skyward at 1:23 p.m.

Rayburn Has Very Poor Night

BONHAM, Tex. (AP)—Speaker Sam Rayburn's alertness decreased Wednesday and his condition remained critical.

Dying of cancer, Rayburn had an alarmingly poor night that kept members of the family near his hospital bed.

Rayburn's doctor, Joe A. Risser, reported, however, that there was "no apparent increase of weakness" during the day.

Risser said that Rayburn slept with unusual soundness Tuesday night but his alertness diminished.

Mayor-Elect Small Outlines Proposed Borough Program

STROUDSBURG Mayor-elect Joseph Small presented a broad outline of his plans for the borough in the four years after he is sworn into office January 1 at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Penn-Stroud Hotel yesterday afternoon.

In his opening remarks, Mr. Small stated that running for political office had been a new experience for him, and stressed that he was a businessman, not a politician. He pointed out that the mayor of Stroudsburg, the county seat, was an important job because in one way or another it greatly affects the county.

However, he said, it was not a one-man job—it must be a community effort to be successful.

Pointing out that the borough of 8,000 people operated on a budget of $160,000, he reminded those present that this represented a substantial per capita outlay for every man, woman and child. "This is big business," he said, "and the figures I use do not include the county and school budgets."

In outlining his specific duties as mayor, Mr. Small said that he planned to have a monthly meeting with members of the police department to iron out problems that come up periodically. In working with the council, despite not having a vote unless there is a tie, he said he would have an active voice in its affairs. "These are my four years," he said, "and I will stand firm on what I feel should be done. This is my job."

The speaker said he would seek more coordination between the police and fire departments, as well as more and better cooperation between all municipal employees and all departments. In mentioning the Water Authority, he stated that the purchase of the water system by the borough had been a good buy.

Citing the desirability for some form of a parking authority, the mayor-elect said that adequate parking facilities should be encouraged. For the economy of the community the merchants and businesses must be kept in the borough rather than on the outskirts, and parking is a very necessary factor to do so.

In this matter, there are some problems to be faced, he said, but with the new thruway, more local customers will shop in Stroudsburg than before because the traffic congestion will have been eliminated. Proper parking facilities will be needed to encourage the local customers so that they can shop in town conveniently.

Speaking of parks and playgrounds, Mr. Small said that the service clubs and other organizations can do much to assist various projects. Much can be done for our young people to make them better citizens. He particularly mentioned an area on Third St., where some playground equipment was already installed, and which could be properly cleaned up with a little off-time assistance. He also said that the people in affected areas are perfectly willing to get out and help such projects.

Beautification of the various entrances of the borough should be an imminent and major project. Mr. Small said that visitors in the vacationland by which the borough is surrounded, form an opinion of the community as they first enter it. Much can be done along this line, he said.

The mayor-elect, in speaking on planning and zoning, said he believes in it. With the advent of the Tocks Island dam and the modern highway projects going on in the area, it is bound to grow industrially and population-wise. Proper zoning and planning cannot wait too long, or it will be too late to be effective.

He pointed out that assistance in planning and zoning programs can be obtained from the state, and recommended the formation of area boards manned by civic-minded volunteers as the most effective method of operation. The smaller boards would be coordinated under a county advisory board.

The speaker touched on the importance of coping with health and sanitation problems locally, without getting the state in "to tell us how to run it by mandate." Keeping the streets of the borough clean, as well as snow removal in winter, depends a great deal upon the cooperation of residents and merchants to help beautify the community.

Mr. Small closed his remarks with his reasons for seeking the office, and summed up his philosophy with a poem, "The Builder," which speaks of making the path of those who follow safer and more pleasant to travel.

In the question and answer period following, Mr. Small was asked his opinion on the consolidation of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg. He said such an act would need the cooperation of a great many more people than are now willing, but "just to have people talking about it is good. At least they are thinking." He said that cooperation exists already in some departments of the two boroughs, and even more could result in savings and better municipal operation.

He expressed the idea that Stroud Township should also be considered as an important component for consolidation, since much of the enlargement of the area is in that direction.

Asked what he had in mind on business zoning and what business expansion could be expected in residential areas, Mr. Small replied that zoning in Stroudsburg was not a major problem in this light. "There just isn't the room to build an extensive factory here," he said. The real estate situation almost controls itself. He did say, however, that the cropping up of small business enterprises in residential sections could ultimately pose a problem.

The zoning and planning program at the moment is more essential in the surrounding areas, Mr. Small said. This is where the area boards he recommended previously would be all-important. Long-range planning as early as possible is imperative, Mr. Small stated.

The speaker was introduced by Elwood German, president of the Kiwanis Club, to the approximately 100 members and guests gathered. In the course of the meeting, a moment of silence and prayer was observed in respect to Dr. Harold Cryder, a member who died suddenly on Tuesday.

Daniel G. Warner, Monroe County coroner, identified the victim as Milton Buskirk, Saylorsburg, RD 1, and said he died of a broken neck.

Trooper Edward J. Pucylowski of the Fern Ridge State Police barracks said Buskirk apparently went through the stop sign on 45005 and was struck by a tractor-trailer driven by Lyttell Guy Collins, 27, Greensboro, N.C.

Collins and his helper, Troy Lane of Danville, Va., were not injured. The tractor-trailer, loaded with cake, was owned by Thomas Matson Williams and leased to Interstate Bakeries, Inc., both of Greensboro.

Joans Buskirk, 40, a passenger in his father's car, was taken to Monroe County General Hospital for treatment of bruises and shock and was released.

No charges were filed against Collins immediately. The elder Buskirk's body was released to the Kresge Funeral Home, Brodheadville.

Mr. Buskirk was born in Ross Township, the son of Strain and Anna Lazarus Buskirk, and was a sawyer by trade. He was a member of United Church of Christ, Kunkletown, and Aerie 1106, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Stroudsburg.

Surviving are his wife, Sarah Derhammer Buskirk; three sons, Paul, at home; Jonas, Lyons, N.J.; Veterans Administration Hospital, and Sterling Buskirk, Saylorsburg; five daughters, Mrs. Esther Borger, Saylorsburg, RD 1; Mrs. Mary Koehler, Stroudsburg, RD 4; Mrs. Kathryn Frantz, Kunkletown; Mrs. Ruth Beringer, Pen Argyl, and Mrs. Grace Burger, Saylorsburg, RD 1; a step-brother, Quintus Buskirk, Allentown; 24 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Kresge Funeral Home. Rev. Adan Bohner will officiate and burial will be in Kunkletown Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p.m. Saturday.

Two Planes Collide; 15 Are Injured

BOSTON (AP) — Two airliners collided at an intersection of runways while taxiing at Logan International Airport Wednesday night.

A National Airlines plane smashed into the passenger cabin of a Northeast Airlines Viscount, shearing off the tail section and the lounge and rear-most seats—none of which were occupied.

There were 40 passengers on the heavily damaged Northeast turboprop. The National liner had 20 aboard.

About 15 of the passengers were injured, most of them with cuts and other minor injuries suffered when they climbed over jagged metal in getting out of the Northeast plane through the open tail end.

The National airliner lost its right outboard engine, and sheared off blades from the propeller of another engine when it nosed over in a field at the side of the runway.

Some of the passengers on the four-engine, piston-driven National plane, slid to the ground through an emergency canvas chute.

High-octane gasoline poured from the smashed wing of the National plane, creating a hazard. A fire truck stood by.

The Northeast airliner had just landed on a flight from Washington and New York. The National was about to take off.

A number of the injured were treated by a doctor at the airport.

What Young People Think

Teeners Strong On 'Sixth Sense'

By Eugene Gilbert
President Gilbert Youth
Research Co.

Bob Meht, 17, of Pennsauken, N. J., tells this story:

"About five years ago I dreamed that I would run into a Gulf Oil truck and be injured. It happened."

And Lora Schlesinger, 16, of Hollywood, Calif., gave us this tale:

"My brother moved in to an apartment which I'd never seen and I told my mother that I was afraid because I felt he was going to have a fire. A week later he did. Also, my brother was late in joining us for dinner one evening and the telephone rang and before my father answered it, I stated that it was going to be my brother calling to tell us that his car had broken down. It was."

Both stories were given me recently by young people as evidence of the working of a sixth sense. We had asked 989 young people across the nation questions about the fascinating subject of extrasensory perception.

And we found that the majority of you young people believe in ESP. Over 56 per cent of the boys and 53 per cent of the girls expressed belief in the existence of a sixth sense.

The examples given by Lora Schlesinger and Bob Meht were by no means the only ones.

Typical Experience
More than a fourth of you reported some such incidents. Mostly they were on a lesser order. More typical was the experience described by Merle Lois Lifshitz, 17, of Brookline, Mass., who related:

"I was in a room where I had never been before and with new people, yet it seemed this had all happened before and I knew everything everyone was going to say."

With the majority of you expressing belief in extrasensory perception we anticipated a similar response to a related question: "Do you believe in life after death?"

But yes replies were given by only 45 per cent. No answers were made by 44 per cent, and 10 per cent said they simply did not know, or failed to answer the question.

Comments among those who said yes followed along the lines of statements by Madge Miller, 17, of New Ross, Ind., and Sheila Abrams, 16, of Philadelphia.

"I don't believe God's purpose was to make us live on earth without some good life after death," said Madge.

"I try to make myself believe that the ones dear to me have a better, restful life in heaven," said Sheila.

Henrietta Davis, 16, of Newton, Mass., reflected the views of many of those who said no. She commented:

"Man is mass; when the cells are dead nothing's left except a memory."

Vulture Flies Into Airplane

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—A huge vulture smashed into the windshield of a chartered oil company plane flying at 4,000 feet, it was reported yesterday. Flying glass cut an arm of the copilot and an eye of the steward. A passenger fainted.

Despite damage to the radio and navigation systems, the pilot managed to land the plane safely at Ghaghsaran Airport. The injured were hospitalized.

Muscular Dystrophy Drive Set

A BIG response in the all-out effort to battle muscular dystrophy, the crippling disease that strikes young and old alike, kicked off a meeting Tuesday night in Lehigh.

Fund campaign chairmen from Monroe, Carbon and Schuylkill counties staked their full support behind the drive that begins next week after hearing comments from Atty. John P. Lavelle of Weissport, general chairman of the 1961 appeal in the three counties.

He announced that the march on muscular dystrophy, a nationwide movement launched 10 years ago by parents of dystrophic, has the support of President Kennedy and in particular the First Lady who has accepted the post as honorary national chairman.

She succeeds James A. Farley who had held the post for almost a decade. A message received from the White House said "the President salutes the nearly million volunteers taking part in the door-to-door march on MD this year and adds his heartfelt wishes that their efforts may be crowned with success to the lasting benefit of our nation's health."

Atty. Lavelle noted that "medical research conquered polio, now is the time to wipe out another cripple. It must be made clear that the gains made so far are encouraging and with adequate funds, a victory is in sight."

He told the group that medical science believes muscular dystrophy may be hereditary. Sometimes it strikes all members of a family. The disease may begin in childhood or adulthood.

At least a dozen new cases in Schuylkill County have come to the attention of the Carbon-Monroe-Schuylkill Chapter, MDAA which sponsors the annual appeal locally.

Fred Ward Sweitzer of Lehigh, chapter president, believes there are still many more cases.

"We hope to find them all and give them the necessary help. This will require funds, but we feel certain the people of this area will back our plea."

A $9,000 goal has been set for the 1961 drive, which is conducted mostly through door-to-door solicitations, and canister collections.

Oscar Barry of Stroudsburg and John Baird of East Stroudsburg, who are heading the campaign again in Monroe County, attended the session.

Also on hand were Jimmy Baird and Renee Dean of the Stroudsburg who are serving as 1961 poster youths.

Not A One-Man Job!

The broad outline of his program for the next four years, given by Mayor-elect Joseph Small yesterday, was interesting to note. Some of the points in the planned program will be a direct asset to the Borough of Stroudsburg and the surrounding area if they are carried out properly.

As we say, the outline of the program as presented was necessarily broad, and it will be interesting to watch the different phases of it as they are put into practice. In some instances, the operational details will be difficult but they will be able to be accomplished with hard work.

We liked the outlook for the future and the way it was presented, but we were particularly impressed with one statement made by Mr. Small in his presentation. He pointed out that, come January 1, he will be mayor and that what he stated was his basic program for that period — but he emphasized that it was not "a one-man job." The element of community cooperation was most necessary in effecting it.

Too many of our residents and businessmen are prone to listen to the outline of such programs, nod their head in agreement, then go back into hibernation. If the plan works, they lackadaisically take the results for granted; if it doesn't, they rant and rave at its author with all sorts of uncomplimentary epithets.

They never take a few minutes off to contemplate that sometimes the failure of a program is not the fault of its author, but rather of its recipients. They speak lightly of community planning, community betterment, community beautification, and community this-and-that, but they never stumble over the wisdom that they ARE the community.

There is no program, no matter how well planned it be, that will ever be beneficial to any community unless it is effected by the members of the community. As Mr. Small pointed out, it is not a "one-man" job—it is a community responsibility.

At the outset, let us all plan to put our own shoulders to the wheel of community progress. If we agree with a project, let us all help to accomplish it. If we disagree, let's come up with a constructive idea that may be better.

There is an adage that sometimes the "sins of omission are more serious than the sins of commission." Let us not be guilty of the former by just sitting back with a sarcastic grin, hoping a plan will fail. Instead, let's all get in on the act and MAKE it work!

Viewpoint On Loyalty Oath

Attorney Joseph Longacre Jr., of California, descendant of one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, makes a point in his refusal to sign a loyalty oath which has been generally overlooked in the long-standing argument over disclaimers.

To assume a municipal office to which he had been appointed Mr. Longacre is required to sign the usual disclaimer that he'll not take part in any movement advocating violent overthrow of the government.

This, however, would restrict his freedom of conscience if ultimately a totalitarian regime took control of the United States, and he sought to join in revolt against it. Far-fetched? When the people reach the point of apathy to government, become so entrapped in the narrow cells of their own self-interest, that they feel smug and secure; when they feel that threat to their freedoms is far-fetched, they are most susceptible to the loss of those freedoms.

Lyman Hall, Mr. Longacre's ancestor who was one of the Declaration's signatories, took part in a movement constituting "violent overthrow" of the government. It was known as the American revolution, and it cast off political and economic chains colonial American leaders, and a great many of the people, considered oppressive.

Mr. Longacre doesn't want to be under any compulsions, moral or legal, to betray the principles of freedom and the American ideal for which his forefathers fought, and for which all Americans—including the D.A.R., the S.A.R., and other patriotic groups still should be fighting.

A President's Life

Unlike a monarch, who holds office by birth, the President of the United States has to spend his first term politicking for the second. It is a wholesome effort because it keeps him close to the people. He cannot separate himself from those who chose him and will choose or not choose him again. He cannot hope to hear only praise. He cannot expect that his visitors will bow from the waist and amen him through a conversation.

In a word, no matter how hard his staff may try to screen him from those who always know what is right and wrong, the President must from time to time patiently listen to the ideas of others. As trying and time-wasting as this may seem, it is wholesome because the man in the White House dares not isolate himself from trends of public opinion.

As long as this attitude toward the office of the President continues, we are likely to remain a wholesome republic. Naturally, everybody wants to tell President Kennedy what to do and how to do it. Perhaps, it is an instinctive reaction to his lack of grey hair. Perhaps it is his smile that encourages frankness. But he is never likely to become an isolated personage, alone, friendless, as has been the fate of so many Presidents.

Some Presidents have become paralyzed by the Presidency. The White House can become the palace of a monarch and the office of the President can be a trap for a personality who walks on eggs, as the Chinese used to describe some Mandarins.

"The Irish Mafia," in President Kennedy's office, does not look like Mandarins, nor does the President, sitting in his rocker, give the appearance of one who believes that he has a mandate from Heaven to rule over the weak and tremulous. The White House is more cheerful than it used to be although it has in no manner lost its gracious formality.

President Roosevelt gave the impression of knowing that he was superior to other men. President Hoover seemed to be shocked that he, a simple man, should have been chosen for so great a position. President Kennedy remains Jack Kennedy who has a job to do and expects to see that it is done. He grows less partisan because the task of the era requires a national not a partisan President. This is risky in our country for a politician but it does make for a closer unity in the face of the enemy. The principal positions in the Cabinet are held by Republicans and non-partisans because he obviously seeks an Administration of talent, depending upon himself and his brother, Robert, to do the politicking.

How this will work out over the years, it is difficult to say because ambitious men usually like to project themselves in the hope that they may be the successor to the incumbent. Nevertheless, at this moment it can be said that this is not a political Cabinet.

The President is unusual in that he is a philosophic historian, literate, deeply grounded in the traditions of his office, profoundly nationalistic without objecting to nationalism in others. It is possible to grasp his program but I should imagine that it is not easy to move him from a determined course. He accepts criticism politely but not without anger if he senses injustice.

Everybody wants to tell the President of the United States how to run his office and all citizens have a right to do it. As a matter of fact, only the President can know all the factors in a given situation; unfortunately, he cannot tell what he knows and in our kind of society, the public is irritated when it is uninformed.

Roosevelt had the gift of leadership and with little talent built himself into a generally beloved personality. What this country requires most at this moment in its history is potent moral leadership. We need to restore a sense of patriotism.

In a word, our President must lead the people, not read polls to discover where at a moment the public wants him to go. We need a man of the stature of Lincoln who, in the midst of war, could say "with malice toward none."

Jack Kennedy is young enough and sufficiently humble to move from politics to grandeur of spirit. It will be interesting to watch his development.

The Pennsylvania Story

Eisenhower's Influence

Harrisburg — Will the "Eisenhower touch" prove to be the difference between Republican victory and defeat at the polls throughout the Keystone State next year?

It very well may turn out to be just that. Speculation on this point has cropped up repeatedly around Capitol Hill—and unquestionably will continue to do in the future—following last week's meeting between the former president and several top-ranked Pennsylvania Republicans.

That the former Republican president will join in campaign activities next year—which among other things will see a new governor and legislative and congressional members elected—has been assured by the former president in discussions with State GOP Chairman George I. Bloom.

However that does not mean that Mr. Eisenhower is going to stomp the state day and night during the campaign—in fact, far from it! Chairman Bloom expressed it this way:

"Mr. Eisenhower told me he would be glad to do anything he could in helping with the campaign next year—anything that is, within what might be termed sound health reason. He said he is enjoying excellent health—and wants it to continue that way. In other words, we'll be able to count on his assistance—in an understandably limited fashion."

The point to be made is that if next year's campaign turns out to be a close one, it may very well prove in the end that the assistance—limited though it may be—could become the decisive factor.

In any event, it is a point very definitely being considered by both Republican and Democratic leaders on the Pennsylvania political front.

All of which brings up once again the somewhat controversial pre-election day meeting last week between Mr. Eisenhower and a baker's half-dozen Pennsylvania GOP stalwarts, including former defense secretary Thomas S. Gates, Jr., and U. S. Representative William W. Scranton, both of whom are projected as possible gubernatorial and U. S. senatorial candidates.

Did that meeting with the former president at his Gettysburg farm last week—at which incidentally Mr. Bloom was not in attendance—really find some of the so-called GOParty regulars "shaken," as one pundit expressed it, because they were not invited?

"Shaken?" asked top GOPartyman Bloom. "I wasn't shaken at all. In fact some time ago it was suggested to me that such a meeting with the former president would be a good idea."

The State GOP chairman also disclosed to this column that it wasn't the next day that Mr. Eisenhower called him to suggest that they get together—but the afternoon of the day of the Gates-Scranton meeting, at which time according to Mr. Bloom, General Eisenhower briefed him on the earlier-in-the-day meeting and suggested he and Bloom get together the day after election, which they did.

As for reports that the Gates-Scranton-Eisenhower meeting was a "power play" within the GOPolitical world, Mr. Bloom had three words that amply summed up his reaction to such a charge: "Absurd and ridiculous."

The important point however—at least insofar as Pennsylvania Republicans are concerned—seemingly revolves around the solid indication that next year GOPsters will have an Eisenhower hand on an assist basis at least.

In fact when the former President returns from his vacation in Augusta, Georgia, some two weeks hence, he is scheduled to sit down with Pennsylvania GOP leaders for a "cooperative size-up" of the situation as it then stands.

The Poconos will be "floating" all over the Atlantic Ocean and possibly the Pacific waters in the not too distant future. The area's name rightfully will be knotting along with the USS Pocono, flagship of the Atlantic's Amphibious Forces, following a presentation ceremony of a painting by Edna Palmer Engelhardt.

It is quite an honor for the area, the artist, and especially the tub-thumping organization, Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau. We know that the Pocono's name is spread to every nook and corner of the United States.

Now the vicinity can boast one better, a beautiful painting of the picturesque Poconos, adorning a ship with the appropriate name — USS Pocono.

The USS Pocono is quite a piece of machinery we have afloat. Its prominence as flagship is worthy of an admiral's guiding. And the 450 enlisted men and 30 officers perform detailed duty during an assault landing that would tax the best of sailors.

Besides having the command of the amphibious task force aboard, USS Pocono carries also the commander of the amphibious landing force as well as the staffs of both leaders in the operation.

The ship serves as a combined operations-communications headquarters because of its elaborate radio and radar equipment aboard. Also a helicopter landing platform on the stern can launch and recover helicopters, adding to the ship's versatility.

No area got more far-reaching publicity than the Poconos Mountains did when the USS Pocono was commissioned. Now for those who are still ignorant of what the mountains really are, Edna Palmer Engelhardt's painting of "Big Pocono Mountain" describes in detail the beauty we natives and residents are forever discovering daily.

The Allen-Scott Report

Senate Top Command Due For Major Changes

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott
Washington, Nov. 16 — The Senate as well as the House faces a big shakeup in top command.

Senator Carl Hayden, 84-year-old Arizonan, who has been a member of that chamber since 1927, is telling key Senate leaders he will not run for re-election next year.

That means a reshuffling of major committee chairmanships and the election of a new president pro tem of the Senate.

In addition to being president pro tem, Hayden is chairman of the mighty Appropriations Committee. His departure not only will vacate these two powerful positions, but also the chairmanship of the equally potent Armed Services Committee.

Head of that committee is Senator Richard Russell, D., Ga., who is next in-line for chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

It is definitely Russell's intention to make this shift.

That in turn will open the chairmanship of the Armed Services Committee to Senator John Stennis, D., Miss.

Stennis is out-ranked for that by Senator Harry Byrd, D., Va., but Byrd is chairman of the Finance Committee, which has jurisdiction over all tax and revenue legislation — long his primary interest. So Senate insiders, who have been apprized of "Hayden's announced retirement plans, are taking it for granted that Stennis and not Byrd will take over the Armed Services Committee.

Although Hayden is completing 34 years of continuous Senate service, is dean of the chamber in length of service, and hold two of the most influential offices in Congress, he is little known outside of Arizona.

Mild-mannered and quiet-spoken, he was born in what is now

Tempe, Ariz., was educated in the state, and began his public career in 1904 as Sheriff of Maricopa County. When Arizona became a state, he was elected to the House of Representatives and served seven terms there. In 1926, he won a seat in the Senate and has been there ever since.

Early this year, Hayden lost his wife whom he married in 1908.

It is his intention not to announce his retirement until next year. But the White House and top Senate leaders have been informed he will announce that at "an opportune time."

Interior Secretary Stewart Udall also knows about this, and is already weighing his prospects of succeeding Hayden.

Udall served three terms in the House, and was elected for a fourth when he accepted a place in President Kennedy's Cabinet. But it's long been a secret that he aspires to the Senate—and it's a sure bet the President would not stand in his way if he seeks Hayden's seat.

Meanwhile, Representative John McCormack, D., Mass., and Carl Albert, D., Okla., have positive assurances the administration will not oppose their election as Speaker and Majority Leader in the coming session of Congress.

Certain reports to the contrary, the President is keeping strict hands-off this House situation, and has ordered his assistants to do the same. As a one-time House member, the President is fully aware the chamber would hotly resent White House meddling in the selection of its key officers, and the administration would have everything to lose and nothing to gain by getting involved.

Still undetermined is the successor to Albert as Democratic Whip.

Representative Hale Boggs, D., La., is Albert's choice—and that is understood to be agreeable to McCormack. Their backing would make Boggs' selection virtually certain.

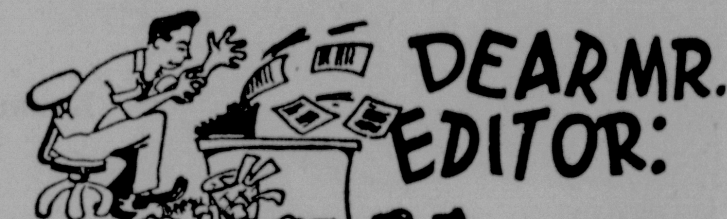

He ought to know — Attorney General Robert Kennedy is a very serious young man, but apparently not too serious to rib himself and his older brother, the President.

Illustrative is the following story "Bobby" is relating:

He dreamed he had encountered St. Peter, who handed him a piece of chalk with instructions to write a broken campaign promise on each rung of the ladder to the pearly gates. "Bobby" meticulously followed these orders and about two-thirds of the way up ran into his brother coming down.

"What happened?" asked "Bobby." "Did they bar you?" "Oh, no," replied the President. "I'm just going down for more chalk."

Politics — President Kennedy has agreed to be the feature attraction at the Democratic National Committee's first big fund raising dinner for next year's crucial congressional elections. It will be a $100-a-plate affair in Washington, probably January 20. The National Committee is still more than $750,000 in debt from the 1960 campaign, but is meeting its commitment to contribute $10,000 a month each to the Senate and House Democratic Campaign Committees. . . . Governor Robert Meyer of New Jersey is in line for an ambassadorship—if he wants it. He is still undecided about that; has indicated to the White House that if he decides to take a federal job, he might prefer one in the U. S. . . . Democrats Abroad, an organization of U.S. Democrats living in Mexico, are urging President Kennedy to make an official visit there. Joe Nash, head of the Mexico City chapter, has written the President that a trip there would not only make a tremendous impact in Mexico but throughout Latin America generally. Nash also believes it would do much to offset Castro's anti-U.S. propaganda and machinations.

E-Burg Replaces Teacher, Names Swim, Mat Coaches

EAST Stroudsburg Joint School Committee accepted the resignation of one teacher, hired another, and named two coaches at its meeting last night.

Mrs. Evelyn Lewis resigned as elementary teacher due to ill health. She will be replaced by Mrs. Ruth Eyer, for the remainder of the first semester. Jack Kist was named swimming coach at a yearly salary of $100 and Marlin Martz was appointed wrestling coach at a salary of $200 per season.

In other business, the committee discussed at great length the changing of the bus route in the Delaware Water Gap. After the discussion, the board voted to take no action until after the new thruway is opened and a traffic survey made by the transportation committee.

One of the proposed routes in the change is that a bus would enter Route 611 from the road coming from Cherry Valley. This road enters the highway near the bottom of Foxtown Hill.

Turkey Prices Down

CHEAPER turkeys should cut Thanksgiving dinner costs this year over last season.

A check of the local area disclosed that the turkeys—both toms and hens—are running cheaper in cost.

An unofficial Midwestern survey indicated that the food for next week's big dinner with all the trimmings will cost a typical family of four about $5.75. However, this is the Eastern part of the country and may not have any bearing on that survey.

Federal market men, who have checked identical Thanksgiving items since 1950, figured the cost of last year's feast at $6.22. The previous low was $6.04 in 1958; at the peak in 1951 makings for the meal cost $8.63.

Turkeys, it was reported, are the cheapest in 22 years. The turkeys account for around two-thirds of the meal's cost.

Prices for the turkeys depend on their weight. The cost of lower weight turkeys run high-

The bus would then travel south to the turn around near the diner in Delaware Water Gap, cross 611 and head north. The bus would stop at the abandoned Esso gas station there and pick up children.

It would then go to the next legal left turn and then south again on Route 611 making all necessary turns to arrive at the school.

The board also voted to allow the high school band to go to Iowa City, Iowa, if it was selected as the band to represent Pennsylvania at the National Band Concert Convention. Another "if" was that the band is selected they would have to raise the necessary money themselves for transportation.

One band is selected to attend this convention from each of the 50 states. The prizes awarded are instruments and music for the school, amounting to more than $10,000.

The Committee also granted permission for Grant Bartholomew to attend the National Physic Teachers Convention in New York City in December.

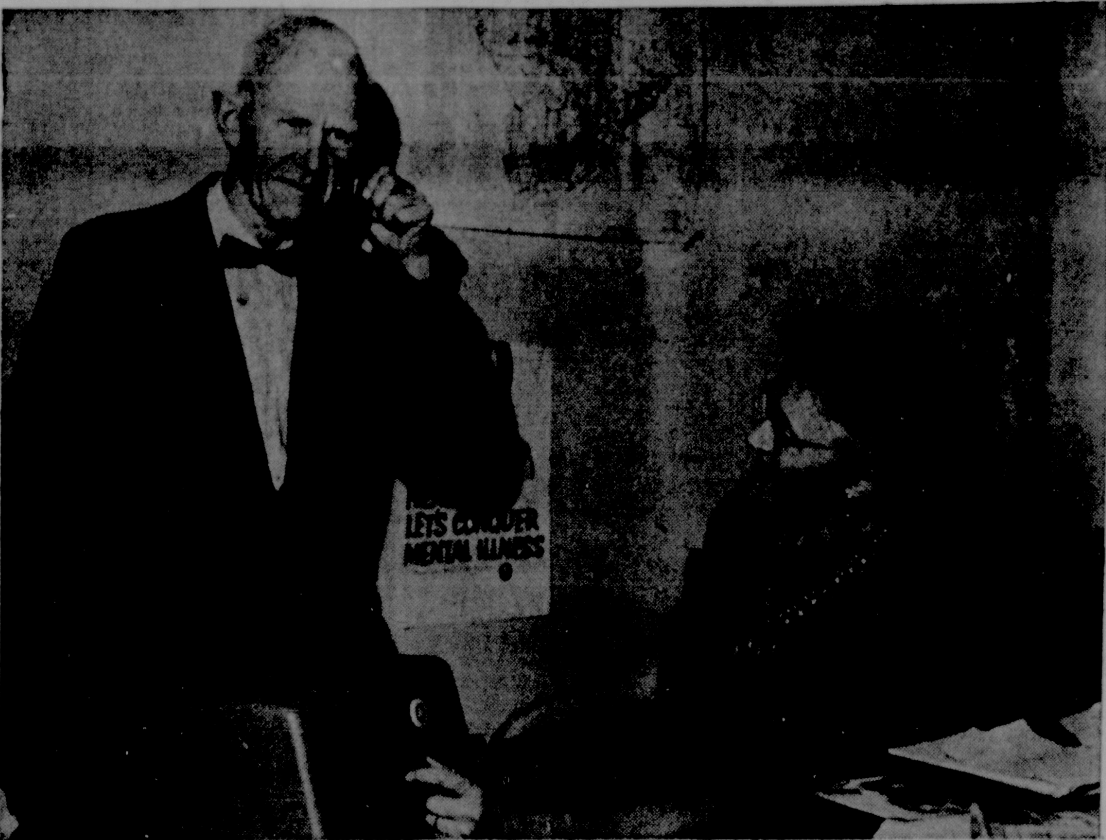

The committee also granted permission to the athletic association to purchase photographic equipment from Irving Sommers at a price of $125. The equipment has been used to photograph football games and under the purchase agreement will be available to the school for use.

5-Day Outlook On The Weather

Extended forecasts for Nov. 16 through Nov. 20, Eastern Pennsylvania, south-eastern New York and New Jersey—Temperatures are expected to average about 8 degrees or more above normal with mild temperatures through Friday cooler Saturday and Sunday and mild Monday.

A WORD ABOUT HOBBS TURKEYS

Thanksgiving dinner can only be as good as the food you serve. HOBBS TURKEY FARM will never be known as the largest grower, or raise the biggest turkeys, but as breeders and growers we feel that you cannot buy a better tasting turkey at any price. A properly fed, fresh dressed turkey is hard to beat, so keep this in mind when you order your turkey for your Thanksgiving dinner.

Groner Discusses State School Reorganization Plan

SOME OF the effects of the state school reorganization program in regards to Stroud Union School District were discussed last night by Earl Groner, district superintendent.

The discussion took place during the regular meeting of the school board in the high school building.

Groner reported on a recent regional hearing conducted by the State Educational Council at Parkland High School. The reorganization act requires that school districts be formed on the basis of a minimum of 4,000 students each in most cases.

Groner pointed out that Stroud Union presently has 3,038 students and it would mean that the district is under the minimum by some 1,000 students.

He said little concrete information could be gathered at the hearing but did hear various opinions from those present.

Seek Representation

In another report, Groner said the district should be represented on the county board. Presently the five-man board is represented by East Stroudsburg, with two members; Pocono Mountain Joint Schools with two members and Pleasant Valley Joint High with one member.

The state limits the county board to five members, but Stroud Union district will study the law to determine whether they may be represented.

The county board will formulate many of the reorganization plans when the law becomes effective in 1965. Stroud Union is an independent school district.

In other action, the board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Linda Pipher, home economics teacher. She will remain until the end of the semester in January.

John Baymore, a new member of the board, was introduced.

The annual reorganization meeting of the board will be held on Monday, Dec. 4 at 7:30 p.m. The next regular meeting will be held Dec. 20.

Groner reported that both Hamilton and Morey elementary school construction projects are progressing on schedule. He said much of the masonry has been completed and that the roof construction would be started in a matter of days.

Secor Endorses Christmas Seal Drive Of TB Group

CARL T. SECOR, supervising principal of East Stroudsburg Area Joint Schools, yesterday endorsed the 1961 Christmas Seal campaign of the Monroe County Tuberculosis and Health Society.

Secor's statement: "Benjamin Franklin once said, 'Early to bed and early to rise, makes one healthy, wealthy and wise.' The reference to health comes first and right fully so, because health is of great concern to everyone.

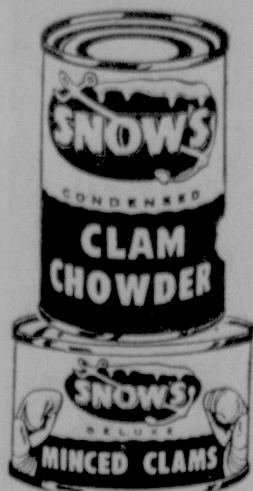

"President Kennedy has and is continuing to urge all the people of America to participate in a Physical Fitness Program.

"Tuberculosis has taken many lives in the past and if not properly controlled will continue to take lives and impair the health of many individuals. We can all combat tuberculosis with a check-up and a check.

"Your purchase of Christmas

Seals will help you and your fellow citizens. To win, everyone must accept their responsibility. When you stop at the X-Ray Unit for a check, remember, the purchase of Christmas Seals made it possible.

Townships' Officials Adopt 14 Resolutions At Parley

TOWNSHIP officials of Monroe County adopted 14 resolutions at its 55th annual convention Tuesday night held at the Pocono Fire House in Tannersville.

The resolutions are listed below and are stated as read at the convention:

1. RESOLVED, That we request amendment to the State Constitution to raise the borrowing capacity of our Townships, by vote of the people.

2. WHEREAS, a great percentage of the 10,000 bridges on Township roads in Pennsylvania are in bad condition and there is the financial impossibility of repairing these bridges with Township resources, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That we request a separate State allocation for bridge construction out of motor funds with the allocation based upon need rather than mileage or population.

3. WHEREAS, our present State archaic annexation law is working hardships and blocking progress in many Second Class Townships, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That we ask for the right of every citizen who is affected by an annexation act, to have the privilege of voting thereon; this, in effect, will provide that all residents of a Township shall vote on the annexation of any part of that Township.

4. RESOLVED, That we request legislation that will compel the Department of Highways to designate the shortest available public highway as the official detour when State highways are closed and detours established.

5. WHEREAS, the tremendous construction program on rural Pennsylvania roads was initiated and carried forth prior to 1955 with a formula of distribution of State funds based upon 70% mileage and 30% population and, WHEREAS, the primary and basic reason for this appropriation is road improvement, since it comes out of motor funds, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That we ask that the future allocation of funds to the municipalities of Pennsylvania be based upon a formula of 70% mileage and 30% population.

6. WHEREAS, the continuing encroachments of the State Department of Health into the field of local government is creating a real threat as well as an overriding and overbearing bureaucracy, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That we are opposed to any present or proposed legislation that will expand the power of this Department in any direction in any activity of the local governments of Pennsylvania. We refer to the County Board of Health Law of 1951 in particular and to the proposed law which would give the Department of Health control over real estate developments in Townships.

7. WHEREAS, continuing efforts are made by selfish interests to break down local enforcement of the State Motor Vehicle Code by taking away from local governments their share of the Motor Code fines, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That we oppose any legislation that will take away from local governments their share of Motor Code fines.

8. RESOLVED, That we ask our legislators to oppose any legislation that tends to centralize our tax collection system at either the County or State level.

9. RESOLVED, That the District Engineer of the State Highway Department be given authority to authorize a Township to pair and/or replace Township bridges having a span of 25 feet or less, without the necessity of first obtaining the consent of the Department of Forests and Waters.

10. WHEREAS, the State Association activities in the fields of Research and Public Relations are badly in need of expansion, and WHEREAS, under our present small, inadequate dues schedule this is not possible and, WHEREAS, this schedule, limited by law, is unfair as no other similar association has such limitation, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That in Section 610 of the Township Code the $20.00 limit shall be removed.

11. RESOLVED, That we request legislation that no annexation can become final until all debts incurred are paid.

12. RESOLVED, That we ask authorization of cost of County Convention expenses be increased to $250.00 annually.

13. WHEREAS, the problem of Tax Exempt property in Pennsylvania is growing to serious proportions and, WHEREAS, many Counties do not even assess this property, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That we recommend a study of this problem be made by the Local Government Commission of the Legislature in order to ascertain the amount and location of Tax Exempt property in Pennsylvania.

14. RESOLVED, That we request prompt action for the repeal of the School Reorganization Law of 1961.

Chairman.

St. Matthew's CCD Preparing For New Year

THE Teachers Division of St. Matthew's Confraternity of Christian Doctrine is presently preparing for the 1962-63 school year.

A group of volunteers, men and women of the parish are busily undergoing extensive training to prepare them to become Lay Catechists which will qualify them to teach in the Confraternity Catechetical High School of Religion program.

The basic course of instructions will be a seven-week, two hours per week schedule. It is being conducted in cooperation with the CCD executive board and the instruction is being given by a staff which includes CCD members and local professors from East Stroudsburg State College.

They are Father John Essel,

Teacher Division, priest-moderator; James A. Murphy, high school supervisor and Teacher Division chairman; Alty Christie Shull, teacher and CCD member; J. Brennan, teacher and CCD member who also is on staff at ESC; Miss Marie Brown, former supervisor of high school and, also of ESC.

The Catechetical High School of Religion program in St. Matthew's Parish is set-up to correspond with the grade level of the student in both the East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg High Schools.

At present eight classes are being taught by a staff of 19 laymen and laywomen all members of the Parish.

A total of 171 students are registered and they participate in weekly classes on each Monday evening throughout the school year.

The operation and overall scope of the Catechetical High School is unlike a Sunday School Session in that students are graded into 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th grades.

Also, classes are on the level of a regularly conducted high school in that homework and outside assignments are given to the students and reports are sent to the home. The one likeness to Sunday School is the fact that Religion is the topic.

The theme of the course taught is "Christian Living". It is well suited for the needs of the present day youth in that it strives to fit everyday (proclaimed new) problems in their respective places and stresses the importance of religion and its practice in the forefront as the constant guide for the fulfillment of a true 'Christian Life'.

It has been pointed out and stressed by members of the hierarchy the importance of Laymen and Laywomen participation in this work of teaching the youth. Pope Pius XI had this to say about those who give their time to this work as "the choicest field of Catholic action".

Parish members who are enrolled in this class are: Joseph Harrison, Joseph Mullally, Joseph Zabaly, Leonard Peters, Miss Elizabeth Deoney, Miss Teresa Dougherty, Miss Suzanne Coleman, Miss Wally Tippmann, Mrs. Jan Winters.

The Class is held each Tuesday night 7:30 p.m. in the school. Plans are already underway for another such class which will be conducted after the new year starts. Anyone interested in enrolling are urged to contact the high school supervisor as soon as possible.

My Sincere Thanks for your confidence in electing me to the Office of Monroe County Coroner and Justice of the Peace in the Borough of Stroudsburg.

For 1962...an all-new kind of Ford!

the car that's just right for just about everybody

You've never seen anything like it, because there's never been anything like it . . . until today. On the outside the new Ford Fairlane 500 measures a quick 197 inches from stem to stern. A good foot shorter than the cars from which it borrowed its name, it calls the snugest parking places home. At the same time, on the inside the new Fairlane 500 is every inch as big as some of the biggest Fords ever built.

The new Fairlane 500 is priced way under previous Fairlanes, well under many compacts. But Fairlane economy doesn't stop with a pretty price tag. It runs to amazing gas savings—with the world's first economy V-8 or the nickel-nursing Fairlane Six. Routine service is reduced to a minimum—30,000 miles on many items, only twice a year or 6,000 miles on the rest. And it adjusts its own brakes.

RIGHT! Big-car room, ride, performance.
RIGHT! Compact-car price, economy, handling.
RIGHT! Only car anywhere near its price with the twice-a-year maintenance schedule first introduced by Galaxie.
RIGHT! Unique economy choice: the world's first economy V-8 or the delightfully thrifty Fairlane Six.

RIGHT! Fine-car upholstery, appointments, luxuries.
RIGHT! The built-in value that pays off in pleasure now—and in profit when it comes time to trade.
RIGHT! Quality and precision craftsmanship you've never before enjoyed in any car anywhere near its low price.

Religion Axe For Communism

NEWFOUNDLAND — "How can our religion help us combat communism?" That is the question discussed by the Greentown-Newfoundland-South Sterling Youth Fellowship during its meeting at the Moravian church, one which will be continued on November 19.

The first of the two discussions was led by Shirley Smith and Peggy Wohlfart, who described the history of communism. Next Sunday's theme will be how communism affects us today.

Thirteen members of the group volunteered to participate in the youth choir at La-Anna Methodist Church during the Union Service of Thanksgiving at 9:30 a.m. on November 23. In charge of the choir are Jane Beehn and Judy Cramer.

There were 27 members present for the meeting.

Hammil Named To Bank Board

PORTLAND — Robert E. Hammil was elected a director of the Portland National Bank on October 30 to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Roy A. Smith.

Mr. Hammil graduated from the East Stroudsburg State College in 1949 with the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education, and is a major in the Air Force Reserve. He operates a market in Portland.

He is married to the former Jane Smith, and they have three sons.

Peace Corps Exams Stated

PEACE Corps examinations will be held in the post offices in Allentown, Scranton and Wilkes-Barre for those in this area who wish to apply. Postmaster Fred H. Rhodes said last night.

Peace Corps posters, with date and other information, are on display in the local postoffices on the bulletin board.

French Cleanup

PARIS (AP)—The French government is on a cleanup spree. The face of the Navy Ministry on the Place de la Concorde already has been scrubbed clean. Others on the list: the Reims Cathedral, the palace at Versailles, the chateau at Fontainebleau and the Invalides, site of Napoleon's tomb.

Eucharist By Tube

BARCELONA, Spain (AP)—The Roman Catholic Church says that for the first time in history a sacrament has been administered through a feeding tube. A spokesman said that Pope John XXIII allowed a bedridden priest here to be given the Holy Eucharist through the same tube by which he was being fed.

South Wayne Junior Play Tomorrow

NEWFOUNDLAND — Final touches are being added to the scenery, and final rehearsals are under way for the Friday night production of "The Innocents" by the Junior class of Southern Wayne Joint School.

Preparing the stage for the presentation has been a major task for the class and its advisors. Transforming a 1961-style school stage into an 1880-style English country home has taken some ingenuity and hard work, but if the new coats of paint dry, and the French windows fit into the scenery as planned, all will be accomplished by Friday evening.

The setting will include authentic antique furniture and furnishings: curtains with heavy fringe that graced a local home nearly 100 years ago; a loveseat styled before the turn of the century; piano lamps and candelabra that will light the way to the dramatic scenes in which ghosts return; a slate for Flora, (Yvonne Rochfort), that once bore the handwriting of a child who grew up before 1900; and period furniture in keeping with the scenes set by Henry James, upon whose play, "The Turn of the Screw", the local production is based.

The cast includes, in addition to Miss Rochfort, whose twelve-year-old sense of humor adds gaiety to an otherwise dramatic production: Donna Bartleson, as Miles, the boy who has been influenced by the unsavory Peter Quint, now a ghost played by John Olsommer; Shirley Jones, as Mrs. Grose, the housekeeper; Joan Hancock, as Miss Giddens, the governess who struggles to save the children from the evil spirits of Quint and Miss Jessel, the latter played by Dawn Zacharias.

An important part of the play is shared by Barry Kistler and Robert Duty, who have charge of lighting, since much of the production goes on under weird lighting effects.

Prompters are Dollie Miller, Edith Webster, Rose Morris and Mary Ann Aleckna. Properties committee includes James Lee, John Olsommer, Edward Strada, John Hess and Robert Wasyluk. Understudies are Rose Morris, Edith Webster, Mary Ann Aleckna and Michael Newcomer.

The play will be produced under the direction of Terrence Bartholomew, a member of the Southern Wayne faculty, assisted by Adolph Caprioli. Mrs. Ruth Fetherman is serving as properties and costuming advisor.

Livestock Cards To Be Distributed

NEWFOUNDLAND — Rural and Star Route mail patrons will begin receiving their 1961 Livestock Survey cards this week, according to Postmasters C. L. Beecker, Newfoundland; Estella Christmas, South Sterling; and Robert Krieger, Greentown.

Livestock cards will be placed in the mail box of a sampling of farmers by these three post-offices.

The survey is one of two which the post office and the agriculture departments cooperatively conduct each year. The next one will be conducted in May.

The November Livestock Survey provides basic information to the Pennsylvania Crop Reporting Service in Harrisburg, for estimating livestock numbers on farms; livestock production, the size of the pig, lamb and calf crops this fall; chickens raised; and milk cow numbers on farms. Reports from a cross-section sampling of farmers provide the cornerstone for reliable and accurate forecasts.

To be sure the Newfoundland, South Sterling and Greentown areas are well-represented in the State-wide survey, the three postal officials urge each patron receiving a livestock card to fill it out and return it to the carrier.

Along with this reminder to rural patrons comes the reminder to "do your Christmas mailing early; overseas immediately; and domestic by December 26 or as soon thereafter as possible."

Deplores N-Tests

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—Mrs. Sirmavo Bandaranaike, Ceylon's premier who pleaded at the Belgrade nonaligned nations conference for an end to atom tests on behalf of the mothers of the world, has written to Soviet Premier Khrushchev deploring his decision to resume nuclear explosions.

Education Week, Vets Day Marked At Southern Wayne

NEWFOUNDLAND — A combined program marking Education Week and Veterans Day was held in the Southern Wayne Joint School auditorium, with the school band, directed by John Strupcowski, opening the program with a musical selection.

Richard Crooks, president of the senior class, led devotions, and the advance of colors was made by a detachment from the Tobyhanna Signal Depot.

Mrs. Robert Rochford, president of the American Legion Auxiliary, and a State Department official, spoke on "Americanism," and William Rubrecht, commander of Phillips-Zacharias-Phillips Post 859, American Legion, spoke on "The Unknown Soldier."

Rebel Attack

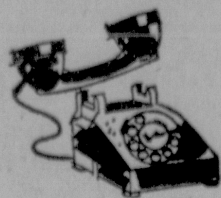

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Four policemen were killed by Karen rebels at Bassein, a government spokesman announced Wednesday.

Rebels disarmed them, tied them to trees and used them for target practice, the spokesman declared.

Leland Cramer, principal of SWJS, introduced the Rev. Larry T. Lindemuth, Moravian pastor, who spoke on the theme "Why American Education Week?"

Mrs. C. Allen Edwards, a member of the school faculty, was in charge of the program.

Red Cross Volunteers Recognized For Outstanding Service To Community

"You are the Red Cross," Mrs. Walter Dreher, chairman of Volunteer Services of the Monroe County Chapter told the 35 volunteers who gathered at the Stroud Community House on Tuesday night, "with the countless other men and women who put service beyond self."

"Now and then we pause to make an accounting of our services and to say 'well done' to those who have worked for sustained periods."

The "well done" had been earned by the volunteers still serving over a continuous period, adding up to as much as 20 years, several since the beginning in the 1930's when Mrs. LeRoy J. Koehler was the first local chairman of the Red Cross.

Celeste Rossi, chapter chairman, outlined those services in his address of commendation: Gray Ladies, First Aid, Home Nursing, Motor Corps, Blood Program, Junior Red Cross.

"The threads of your chapter activities run through the whole fabric of community life," he said.

The Monroe County Chapter of the Red Cross activities whose services, he pointed out: raises the funds, recruits the workers, trains and directs the volunteers. In addition it carries out its charter obligations in service to servicemen, veterans and their families, disaster preparedness and relief.

The Recognition Night for volunteers in all of the Red Cross services was combined with an orientation program for the Gray Ladies Service, of which Mrs. Harold Ingham is chairman, climaxing the certification of new volunteers, which raises the total number to the highest in its history.

Dr. Claus G. Jordan, chief surgeon at the Monroe County General Hospital, praised the work of the volunteers at the hospital over the 11 years they have served.

"Their services has become an integral part of the hospital," he said, "and we could not do without them," pointing out that in a recent survey of public opinion, the Gray Ladies ranked highest in meriting the goodwill of the public to the hospital.

Harry Smith, hospital superintendent, echoed the appreciation of the board and administration. The expansion program at the hospital will require a growth in those volunteer services, he pointed out in making a plea for the continual growth of the Gray Ladies organization.

He also thanked them for their part in decorating the hospital for Christmas and adding other holiday touches.

Children's Bureau Work Reviewed

The functions and services of the Lutheran Children's Bureau were outlined by a member of the staff, Miss Mary Boeckel, of Bethlehem at the meeting of the United Lutheran Church Women of St. John's Lutheran Church, Stroudsburg on Tuesday night.

Members of the ULCW of Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg, and St. Paul's in Tannersville were guests at the meeting at which Mrs. Mabel Shook presided.

Foster home care for Lutheran children and work with the 90 Protestant children in the state hospital are among the major services of the bureau, Miss Boeckel explained.

Most of the children in the state hospital with mental disturbances are from broken homes, often as a result of the tensions building up to the break, she said. The role of the staff workers is to reassure the child that he has a friend. They are remembered on their birthdays and at Christmas.

As a child placing agency, the bureau is accredited by the State Welfare Council and accepts only Lutheran children whose custody is given them by the court and places them in Lutheran homes. The bureau has charge of about 120 children in the area which includes Monroe, Lehigh, Northampton and part of Upper Bucks counties, she said.

Miss Boeckel also outlined the requirements for a foster home, urging women who were interested to contact the bureau.

Refreshments were served by the hostess committee.

St. Matthews Parents Hear New Pastor

The new pastor of St. Matthew's Catholic Church, Msgr. Thomas Cawley, was the guest speaker at the meeting of St. Matthew's Parents this week in the auditorium.

At the business meeting plans were made for the annual children's Christmas party on a Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 p.m. Parents will be notified of details. Scout reports were given by Mrs. Charles Baker and Mrs. Stephanie Zane.

It was announced that at future meetings, the teachers will be available from 7:15 to 7:45 before the meeting to discuss individual children's progress with interested parents.

The fifth grade had the most parents present. Refreshments were served by second grade mothers with Mrs. Margaret Mannhaupt as chairman.

One of the recent visitors to my office was Bobby Westbrook, the Daily Record's social editor, looking trim and slim in a two-piece suit with a fluffy fur piece around her shoulders. Bobby was thrilled and happy, as well she might be, having just received a charming letter from Emily Kimbrough, the widely read authoress who was speaker a few evenings earlier at a Dutch Treat Club dinner.

"I showed this to Arthur downstairs," Bobby told me, referring to Arthur Widmer, our Wyckoff advertising manager, "and he asked me to let you see it." I am happy she did, for I know exactly how Bobby was feeling . . . not only was she proud of the letter for her own sake, because of the many nice things Mrs. Kimbrough had to say of her, but she was gratified because it further proved that this particular celebrity is a truly gracious, warm hearted lady. I have felt exactly the same way when I discovered these qualities in my particular idols . . . and so have you.

Mrs. Kimbrough's letter follows:

Dear Mrs. Westbrook:

When the porter came into my roomette to collect my bag, telling me we were coming into Hoboken, I couldn't have been more surprised if he had told me the train had left the tracks and flown—all the way. I had begun ITALIAN SUMMER as we left Stroudsburg, just finished it, and was savoring it reflectively, looking out the window to see if we were near Blairstown, the name of the station I remembered on the way up, because there was such a pretty view around it, when the porter came for my bag.

What a completely engaging and oh! so expert a job you've done! I know, because I was told, these were separate columns assembled later, without your doing any editing, but what continuity there is! Beautiful pace sustained, and that heart-warming quality of sharing with your reader your own sense of wonder and delight, without ever pressing too hard, or over-sentimentalizing; it is a thoroughly delectable book.

This was icing on the cake of my enjoyment of your company at dinner. I only wish there had been more of it. Then, to top the icing itself, I found in the paper I bought at the hotel desk at half-past six yesterday morning, your piece about my own "do." Now I am so in your debt and so grateful that in fact to thank you with anything approaching adequacy would carry me to the peak of redundancy. Nevertheless, I do thank you and look forward to our meeting again.

Very sincerely yours, Emily Kimbrough

I think all who have read Bobby's columns and book agree they-and-it are reporting at its best. I am glad the subject came up at this point too, for this is National Book Week, is it not? And wouldn't you just love to read ITALIAN SUMMER if you have not already done so? We sell it here at Wyckoff's in our book department, and suggest it happily as a thoroughly informative and amusing Christmas gift. As a matter of fact, I'm sure it would fit perfectly into a stocking. Snuggly perhaps . . . but try tugging! A book of such pleasant memories certainly merits your stretching a point!

Lulu Harvey Copes, Friends Agree, Before BPW Dinner

By Madalyn Maloney

Looking back over her life, Lulu P. Harvey, the Business and Professional Women's Club's "Woman of the Month," concedes that the most dramatic event was probably the horrifying flood that struck the Poconos the night of August 18, 1955.

Ordinarily Mrs. Harvey's was rather a quiet life, centered around home, family, and her position as chief operator with the local Bell Telephone Company. Suddenly, she was in the midst of turmoil, with wires down in many areas and those telephone subscribers, with service intact, clamoring for a few words of consolation and a helping hand.

"It was a terrible experience," Lulu concedes, "but the telephone company is accustomed to dealing with emergencies—so, once again we did."

In retrospect, she is inclined to discount her part in meeting the situation, but one hears a different story from some of the operators who were on her staff at that time. "Lulu was wonderful," Betty Peckman, then a desk assistant in the local office, will tell you. "She really manned the Stroudsburg office around the clock, and it called for all her executive ability. At first, there were only a few operators from Stroudsburg, for the East Stroudsburg girls couldn't get here because of the bridge collapse. I was one of them, and we were brought over by helicopter the following morning at ten o'clock. In the meantime, Mrs. Harvey had contacted Harrisburg for help . . . man power where needed, food, and facilities for sleeping us and feeding us right in the building. We never left until the emergency was over. Lulu deserves full credit for overseeing the entire procedure."

Mrs. Harvey herself explains that all of her years of training with Bell had been a natural stepping stone to her control of the situation, for she had been with the company about 45 years at that time. She began her service as a young woman in Scranton, Pa., as an operator. Later she was promoted to instructor, then supervisor, and was evening chief operator when transferred to the Stroudsburg office on August 1, 1930. Her retirement from the company became effective June 1, 1958.

In the wake of the flood, her co-workers recall, there was still a great deal to be done—not just at business, but of a philanthropic nature. Two Bell employees had suffered almost a total loss of material possessions during the flood, and others had suffered less severe losses. Lulu spearheaded a movement to aid them. "This is typical of her," they will tell you, "for she is very interested in helping those less fortunate than herself. One of her great concerns is the work of the Bell Telephone Pioneers of Pennsylvania, an organization into which Bell employees are automatically received after 20 years with the company. It does a great deal for retired Bell people, and Lulu is very active in its work."

All of this ties in with her activity in, and enthusiasm for, the Business and Professional Women's Club, which will honor her at this evening's dinner meeting, and for the Local Soroptimist Club. The executive ability which distinguished her as a Bell employee, has been recognized by both organizations, and they have both honored her with their Presidency.

Mrs. Harvey is the mother of a son, Robert, East Stroudsburg business man, and a daughter, Mrs. William Coolbaugh, Stroudsburg. There are two grandchildren, Michael Harvey and Robert Coolbaugh, and a great grandchild by the latter.

This evening's meeting is scheduled for 6:30 o'clock at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Syrian Election Set For Dec. 1

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—The interim government has called for a nationwide election Dec. 1 to name the first constituent assembly since Syria's break from union with Egypt in the United Arab Republic.

Syrians also will vote on a new temporary constitution, according to a government decree broadcast Monday by the Damascus radio. The total number of assembly seats has not been announced, but it is believed there will be between 170 and 172, on a population basis. After a permanent constitution is ratified, the constituent assembly would change automatically into a parliament.

Mantle, Gentile, Cash In Order

Maris Again Picked As AL's Most Valuable

BOSTON (AP)—Outfielder Roger Maris, who made history last season by slugging 61 home runs to break Babe Ruth's record, was named the American League's most valuable player for 1961 Wednesday, edging New York Yankee teammate Mickey Mantle for the second straight year.

Maris polled 202 points to Mantle's 198 in voting by 20 members of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Last year, Maris nosed out the switch-hitting Mantle by three points in the second closest race in the award's 30-year history.

Joe DiMaggio, the "Yankee Clipper," beat Ted Williams by a single point in 1947 when one sports writer peevishly failed to name Ted on his 10-place ballot.

Gentile Third

Third place this year went to

Jim Gentile, Baltimore's big first baseman, who received 157 points.

Norm Cash, Detroit Tiger first baseman, was fourth with 151 points.

Yankee hurler Whitey Ford, who won the Cy Young award with 109 points and ace New York reliever Luis Arroyo was sixth with 95 points.

"Without a doubt this makes my happiness complete," said Maris by telephone from his Ray-town, Mo., home. "I was hoping I'd win but I wasn't at all confident about it. I just hoped I would. I'm very, very happy, believe me."

The left-handed hitting Maris, who also paced the American League with 142 runs batted in, received seven first-place votes, six for second place, three for third, three for fourth and one for sixth.

Mantle, the loop's top slugger with a .687 mark, had six votes for first place, seven for second, two for third and five for fourth.

It was the sixth time in the last eight years that a Yankee player had captured the award. Mantle won it in 1956 and 1957, while catcher Yogi Berra was the winner in 1954 and 1955.

Great Years Ahead

Joe Cronin, American League

president, congratulated the 27-year-old Maris and predicted that "the greatest years of his career still lie ahead for this great slugger."

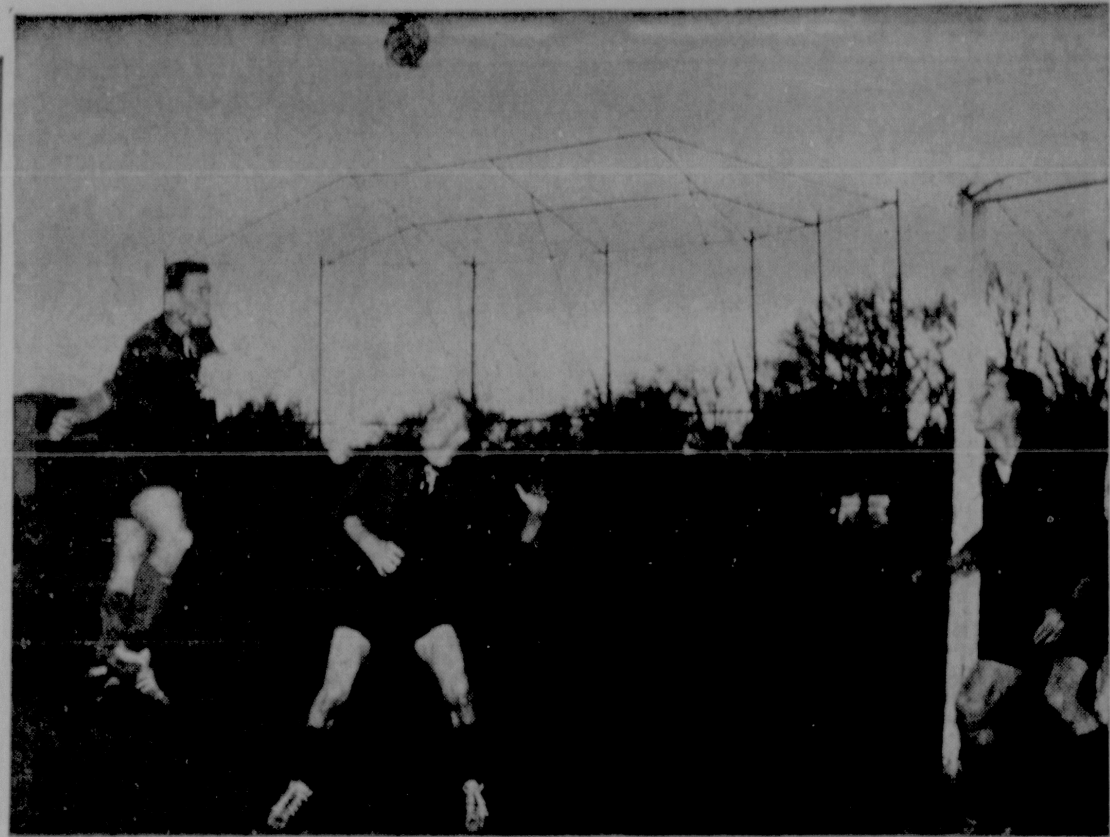

The unassuming blond outfielder hit homer No. 61 in the last game of the 162-game season, tagging a pitch from Boston rookie Tracy Stallard in Yankee Stadium. Maris fell one shy of Ruth's 1927 mark over the former 154-game route.

But the season's finale was the apex of Maris' brilliant two-season career with the Yanks. Traded to New York from Kansas City in a seven-man deal two years ago, Roger hit 39 homers and had 112 RBI in 1960 when he topped MVP honors.

Maris missed only one game in 1961, getting 159 hits in 500 times at bat for a .289 average. He had 16 doubles, 4 triples and scored 132 runs, slugging at a .630 clip.

Mantle batted .317 and swatted 54 home runs in what probably was his greatest of many great seasons. Mick also stole 12 bases and had 163 hits and 132 runs in 153 games. He hit 15 doubles and six triples.

Points were awarded on the basis of 14 for first place, 9 for second place, 8 for third place, down to 1 for 10th place. Twenty-seven players were nominated.

Soft Nose Gridder Named AP's Lineman Of The Week

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas end Bob Moses reached a peak in his sparkling football career this week when he won The Associated Press lineman of the week award—but he made it the hard way.

From what one writer called "the softest nose on the team," Moses roughed his way upward in college football before catching on as a first stringer in his junior year.

"He came up the hard way," Coach Darrell Royal said Wednesday. "He got knocked around good as a sophomore and hardly got into a ball game. He got where he is through hard work."

The lanky 6-foot-3, 195-pounder began to catch notice this year when Royal opened up his game with more passing. Until the 1961 season, Texas stuck strongly to its running game.

But this year's flip-flop offense has changed all that. So far, Moses has caught five touchdowns. Three other linemen were high up in the voting by sportswriters and broadcasters in the weekly AP poll.

One was Don Brumm of Purdue, who broke through and blocked Michigan State's conversion try as Purdue upset MSU 7-6.

Don Vander Velden of Wisconsin prevented a Northwestern touchdown with a key tackle on the Wisconsin four in what Wisconsin Coach Milt Bruhn called the turning point. Wisconsin won 29-10.

Foster Anderson of UCLA played a standout offensive and defensive game as UCLA defeated Texas Christian 28-7.

Moses, son of a Houston steel executive who came from the East to Texas in 1937, said he wants to give pro football a try after he finishes his economics course at Texas.

Leading Pro Grid Squads Push Offense

NEW YORK (AP)—It's offense that pays off most in the National Football League. Or is it?

The three teams with the best won-loss records—the Green Bay Packers, Philadelphia Eagles and New York Giants—hold three of the four top positions in offense from rushing and passing, according to figures released Wednesday by the NFL. All have 7-2 records.

The Packers, Western Conference, are first with a total of 5,170 yards—1,602 from rushing and 1,568 from passing. Yet, the Packers are seventh in team defense but still are the club to beat in the West.

Offensive Marks

The Eagles and Giants, deadlocked for the lead in the Eastern Conference, are second and fourth, respectively, in team offense with the Baltimore Colts (4-5) sandwiched in third. Philadelphia is 12th in team defense. The Eagles have picked up 3,107 yards on offense, Baltimore 2,975 and New York 2,904.

Still, the team with the most potent defense—statistically, at least—is Coach Allie Sherman's Giant squad. The Giants have yielded only 2,286 yards, including 1,076 rushing and 1,210 passing.

San Francisco's 49ers (4-4-1) are second defensively with a yield of 2,347 yards followed by the Pittsburgh Steelers (4-5) with 2,388 and the Cleveland Browns (6-3) with 2,469.

Fraser's Gain In Net Event

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Dr. John Fraser, his more famous brother, Neal and two other Australian tennis stalwarts all advanced in the New South Wales Tennis Singles Championships Wednesday.

Dr. Fraser, a weekend player, defeated fifth-seeded countryman Fred Stolle 6-3, 6-4. Neale had a tougher time before beating Nicole Pilic of Yugoslavia 6-4, 4-6, 6-4.

Roy Emerson eliminated Indian Jay Mukerjee 6-4, 6-0 while another Aussie, Rod Laver, advanced with a 6-4, 6-4 victory over Ian Crookenden of New Zealand.

Baer To Quit Lacrosse Post

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Ernie Baer is resigning as lacrosse coach at Penn State to take a post with a sporting goods house in Baltimore, it was announced Wednesday.

Baer, an outstanding lacrosse player in his own right, led the team in scoring in his senior year here, 1949.

He became coach in 1957 and his teams won 21 games and lost 34 during his five seasons at the lacrosse helm. His successor at Penn State was not announced.

Football Trouble In Texas

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Hardin-Simmons University faces de-emphasis or discontinuance of football as the result of a big deficit that has piled up in the athletic department within the last eight years.

The board of trustees has decided that all present contracts including athletic scholarships will be honored but that no new scholarships will be issued until a thorough review has been made.

Dr. Evan A. Reiss, Hardin-Simmons president, indicated some decision should be reached by Jan. 1 and he hoped it would come earlier.

Hardin-Simmons is a member of the Border Conference, which is expected to break up at its winter meeting in El Paso next month.

Hardin-Simmons last week lost its 21st football game in a row, but Dr. Reiss said the Cowboys' won-loss record didn't enter into the situation.

LSU Promises No Race Woes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Representatives of Louisiana State University have assured Commissioner Tom Hamilton of the Big Five that there would be no racial problem if LSU is invited to the Rose Bowl.

Hamilton said LSU is one of 15 teams still under consideration as a Rose Bowl opponent for the Big Five champ—either UCLA or Southern California. Both of those Los Angeles schools have Negro players.

None of the 10 schools on LSU's schedule has a Negro player.

Maxwell To Serve Again At Gap C.C.

DR. PAUL MAXWELL was re-elected president of Water Gap Country Club at a membership meeting Saturday.

Sam Kinder, golf pro, and Fred Swenson, golf chairman, gave a run-down on the past season and outlined future tournaments and changes proposed for next year.

Golf Awards

High-light of the member meeting was the presentation of golf trophies by Swenson to: Frank Kasse, Roseto, men's club champion for the third consecutive year; Mrs. C. B. Pierson, Hawthorne, N. M., women's club champion for the second consecutive year; Bert Golden, Brooklyn, N. Y., men's Senior Champion.

Championship runners up were David Wall, Livingston, N. J., and Madeline Macaluso, Bloomfield, N. J. First flight winners were Jim Beatty, Paterson, N. J., and Mary Buckenmeyer, Belvidere, N. J.; runners up, Ben Traviano, Newark, N. J., and Ann Swenson, Stroudsburg.

In the men's division, second flight winner was Arthur Rahates, of Staten Island and Frank Cascario, Nesquehoning, runner up; third flight winner, Jim Broughal, Bethlehem, with Fred Swenson, Stroudsburg, as runner up.

Husband and wife club champions were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cosmanic, of Union City, N. J. Winners of the Flaming Follage tournament were Mary Lou Breslin, Orange, N. J., and Don Abbott, of Pen Argyl.

Small College Gridiron Poll Lists E. Stbg.

EAST Stroudsburg State College has been listed in the Associated Press' small college football poll for the first time this year.

The Warriors, who finished with a 7-1 season, were listed among schools who received votes but did not receive enough points to qualify for the top ten. Last season East Stroudsburg earned a mention on the poll in the middle of the season but were not picked at the end of the season.

The poll is selected by five sports writers across the country. Each writer submits his nomination and the teams are ranked according to number of votes.

Unbeaten Pittsburgh of Kansas leads the poll. The Kansas school compiled a perfect 9-0 season.

Baldwin - Wallace is second with 61 points. Pittsburgh had 71 points. In third place is Fresno State, followed by Whittier and Florida A & M.

Lehigh jumped from eighth to sixth place on the strength of its 12-7 win over Bucknell. Lenoir Rhyne is seventh. Linfield eighth, Southeastern Louisiana ninth and Amherst 10th.

Too Many Deer Hunters Around

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo. (AP)—Dick Carroll, operator of a resort on Lake Wappapello, fled from the area Wednesday saying it was unsafe for the duration of the deer hunting season.

The lake area is swarming with hunters, including many who have less than a nodding acquaintance with their weapons.

"A man came to my place and asked me to show him how to load a deer rifle," Carroll explained. "I didn't even take time to load the rifle. I locked the place up and jumped in my car and drove into town. I intend to stay here until the deer season ends."

Hornung Has Army Uniform

FT. RILEY, Kan. (AP) — Paul Hornung, National Football League scoring king since 1959, became "Pvt. Hornung" Tuesday as he checked into this Army base for a tour of active duty.

The former Notre Dame great learned immediately that football playing as a soldier is out — at least temporarily. An Army spokesman said no weekend passes will be issued.

Trading his Green Bay Packers football togs for a uniform, Hornung was assigned to the 896th Engineer Co., a recently activated National Guard unit from Linton, N.D. His job: light truck driver and radio operator.

A spokesman said that the 25-year-old Hornung will spend the rest of the week in administrative processing and then start intensive combat training.

To Kick Or Not

Cox Not Certain What Role To Play Saturday

PITTSBURGH (AP)—"To play or not to play, that is the question. Whether 'tis nobler in the football mind to run as a halfback or to score as a field goal kicker."

Such, in Shakespearean terms, is the dilemma currently being experienced by Fred Cox, the Pitt halfback who has kicked field goals of 45, 47 and 52 yards in the past two games.

"One of the big factors that helped me last Saturday (against Notre Dame) was that I wasn't playing much because of a bad left knee, so I wasn't tired," Cox said Wednesday. "When I'm playing a lot, I can't kick the ball as far."

The 22-year-old senior believes that specialization is the best thing. But he doesn't go for it now.

"I like to play all the time," he said.

The paradoxical problem is substantiated further when Cox says, "I'm much better as a field goal kicker this year than in the past. As a whole, I'm playing much less than last year."

The statistics support his theory. Last season he made good on three of eight three-point tries while gaining 333 yards on 82 carries. In Pitt's eight games this year, he has kicked five of six

Mass. Freshman Tops Cambridge

OXFORD, England (AP)—Tom Blodgett of Great Barrington, Mass., won four events Tuesday and fired Cambridge to an 84-51 victory over Oxford in a freshmen's dual track and field meet.

Blodgett, a 22-year-old Harvard student, started by winning the 130-yards high hurdles in 16.1 seconds and then took the 220 yards low hurdles in 25 seconds.

He won the pole vault with a freshmen's record of 12 feet, 11 inches and then went on to win another field event, the javelin, with a throw of 170 feet.

Tide Defense Leads Nation In Def. Stax

NEW YORK (AP) — No one laughed last September when Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant Alabama said he wasn't worried about his team's defense this year. And for good reason.

The undefeated, untied Crimson Tide rank as the nation's top defensive team, in over-all stingingness, and are second in defense against opponents' rushing attacks, according to statistics released Wednesday by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Bryant has moved down eight opponents with his rock-ribbed defense, which has permitted only 22 points.

The Tide has allowed only 1,010 yards for an average of 126.3, third best eight-game figure in the past 14 years. Alabama's 47.4 average against rushing is topped only by Utah State's 41.7 for nine games. The Aggies, with only a tie to mar their record, are second in over-all defense with a 153.3 mark.

Penn, winner of only two games, leads in pass defense. The Quakers have given only 51.7 yards per game to seven opponents. Iowa State is second at 55 yards in eight games.

Leaders Could Change After Final Week's Grid Contests

A FEW upsets could change the top three standings of the Daily Record Guess-Per's.

Sports Editor Curt Prins still holds the lead with a .719 percentage. However, Tony Cesare is only two games back in second place and City Editor Bob Clark is in third position, four games out of first. Don Allen is in last place, 20 games off the pace.

The selections are so varied this week that any of the top three can end in any position but fourth.

Clark is going for the upsets this week. His specials are Stroud Union over East Stroudsburg and Bangor over Pen Argyl. Both games are on Thanksgiving. However, the rest of the board went with East Stroudsburg and Pen Argyl.

The board also picked Pocono Mountain to whip Pleasant Valley in the first meeting of the two schools on Thanksgiving morning. Allen was the only selector that went with winless Pleasant Valley.

Phillipsburg Catholic earned a 4-0 from the board in its game with Pius X Saturday.

On the state college scene, Pitt is picked over Southern California and Penn State is a 4-0 choice over Holy Cross.

AP Picks Alabama, Texas To Join Upset Grid List

NEW YORK (AP)—Texas and Alabama, the nation's No. 1 and No. 2 football teams, this week are sitting on the same keg of dynamite which blew Michigan State and Mississippi off the pinnacle Nov. 4. The upset odds are longer, but their fate could be the same.

Attempting to improve on last week's .746 average (41-14), we brazenly submit:

Texas Christian 18, Texas 10: The Horned Frogs have stored up a year's venom for this chance to dump an old antagonist.

FORD FAIRLANE and FAIRLANE 500

On Display Today!

The name is both familiar and famous... the Fairlane series! But only the name is the same. In every other respect nothing has been borrowed, everything's new: there are many unique features in Fairlane and Fairlane 500 that two years ago you could not have purchased in any car, at any price. Beautifully proportioned for today's living, these newest of Fords bring you big-car room, luxury and performance in cars that compete with the compacts in price and economy. They are priced hundreds of dollars less than the Fords which used to bear their names.

They are even priced under many compacts. On the inside they are actually bigger and roomier than most cars on the road today. On the outside everything is different. With one foot less to park, these are the trimmest, sleekest, full-sized automobiles you have ever seen or driven. Stop in for a close-up look!

Dear Abby

Have A Heart To Heart!

Dear Abby: Please don't tell me to go to a doctor because we owe every doctor in town and I'm not kidding. What's wrong with me? When someone asks me a question, I start to tell the truth, but end up telling a lie. I lie about little things, like where I buy my clothes and who cuts my hair. I am 15 and don't get an allowance, so when the kids ask me to go with them, I never say, "I can't"—I say, "I don't want to."

I have a quick temper and tell all the wrong people off and am sorry the next minute. Sometimes I think I'm going crazy. Is there any hope for me?

UNHAPPY

Dear Unhappy: You need a friend. Most people lie because they lack the courage to tell the truth. If there is a teacher, clergyman, or mature adult with whom you can talk frankly, do so. Your problem is not as hopeless as you think it is. Good luck.

Dear Abby: My husband and I were engaged four years before we were married. He was away in service most of this time. He wrote me beautiful love letters. I have kept all of them and they run into the hundreds. Now he asks me please to destroy them because he doesn't ever want anyone else to read them. I doubt if anyone could get to them in my home. Do you think there is any harm in keeping them?

SENTIMENTAL

Dear Sentimental: It all depends on what's in the letters. If they are inflammable—you'd be wise to burn them.

Dear Abby: Perhaps I am too tender-hearted. I belong to an OVER SIXTY club. I am 62 and have been widowed 3 years. Another widow and I go to their Saturday night dances. The minute I walk in, a gent who is over 70 immediately meets me at the door and I am stuck with him the entire evening. He seems to like me but he never asks me out. Other men appear interested in me but they don't have a chance because this man monopolizes me. How can I get rid of him without hurting his feelings?

TENDER-HEARTED

Dear Tender-Hearted: Here is a case where age can learn from youth. Enlist the help of a friend. She can subtly let other interested parties know that you are not attached to this "over 70" gent by choice, and would appreciate being "rescued" occasionally.

Confidential To Al At The store: Better marry a girl who's broke than one who's cracked.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Soviets Sell Summer Sandals

MOSCOW (AP)—Now that icy winter winds are sweeping across the Soviet Union, some shops have begun selling summer sandals, the youth paper Komsomolskaya Pravda reported yesterday.

When customers ask for warm winter footwear, they are told such items were in stock last summer, the paper added.
